

CFP BOARD

ETHICAL DUTIES OF CFP[®] PROFESSIONALS

ETHICS MATTER

When you choose a financial advisor, you're looking for a partner to help you achieve your goals. CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professionals understand the responsibility of being entrusted with your future, so they choose to commit to a high standard of behavior. To become certified, in addition to meeting education, examination and experience requirements, candidates must make a commitment to CFP Board to abide by standards set forth in CFP Board's Code of Ethics and Standards of Conduct.

The Code of Ethics lists the principles that guide a CFP® professional's behavior. The Standards of Conduct elaborate on several "duties" that a CFP® professional must fulfill as part of their certification. The cornerstone of the Code and Standards is a CFP® professional's duty to act as a fiduciary.

THE CODE OF ETHICS

As part of their certification, a CFP® professional agrees to a Code of Ethics that requires them to:

- Act with honesty, integrity, competence and diligence.
- Exercise due care.
- Maintain the confidentiality and protect the privacy of client information.
- Act in the client's best interests.
- Avoid or disclose and manage conflicts of interest.
- Act in a manner that reflects positively on the financial planning profession and CFP® certification.

THE FIDUCIARY DUTY

As part of their certification, a CFP® professional commits to CFP Board's Fiduciary Duty. A CFP® professional commits to CFP Board that they will act as a fiduciary, and therefore, act in their client's best interests, at all times when providing financial advice to a client.

That means your CFP® professional has made a commitment to CFP Board to:

1. Place your interests above their own interests, or the interests of their firm.
2. Disclose conflicts of interest to you, obtaining your informed consent and properly managing the conflict.
3. Continue to put your interests first, even when acting under a conflict of interest.
4. Comply with the terms of the client engagement and follow your directions, so long as they are reasonable and lawful.
5. Act with care, skill, prudence and diligence based on your goals, risk tolerance, objective, financial status and personal circumstances.

You want a financial advisor who has made a commitment to you to act as a fiduciary. Therefore, whomever you choose as your financial professional, including a CFP® professional, you should be sure to ask for—and get—a written engagement that requires them to have a fiduciary obligation to you.

ENFORCING THE CODE AND STANDARDS

CFP Board is a professional body, not a regulator. CFP Board does not guarantee a CFP® professional's services. To maintain the integrity of the Code and Standards, CFP Board investigates allegations raised against CFP® professionals and adjudicates potential misconduct. CFP Board may sanction a CFP® professional who does not abide by their commitment to CFP Board, which could include a public censure, suspension, or the permanent revocation of CFP® certification. More information about CFP Board's enforcement program is available at CFP.net/ethics/enforcement.

Visit CFP.net/ethics/file-a-complaint for more information about how to file a complaint against a CFP® professional and answers to frequently asked questions. Information about a CFP® professional's certification and background, including how to access additional regulatory information from the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), is available at CFP.net/verify.

A RESPECTED PARTNER

The financial services industry is always evolving, but through it all, the CFP® certification remains a high standard for you to consider when choosing the right financial advisor for your plan.

To find out if your financial planner is a CFP® professional or to find a CFP® professional near you, visit letsmakeaplan.org.

The screenshot shows a search interface for finding a CFP professional. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the CFP logo and the tagline 'LET'S MAKE A PLAN'. The main content area features a search form with the following fields and options:

- Location: A text input field with a dropdown menu set to '25 MILES'.
- Planning Services Offered: A dropdown menu currently set to 'All Services'.
- Last Name: A text input field with a placeholder 'If searching for a specific planner'.

Below the form, there is a disclaimer: 'By executing a search, I agree to Terms and Conditions for the Find a CFP Professional Search.' At the bottom of the form is a yellow button labeled 'FIND A CFP PROFESSIONAL' and the text 'Powered By CFP Board'.

CFP® certification marks are owned by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (CFP Board). As a nonprofit, professional certification organization, CFP Board is committed to developing and advancing the financial planning profession for the benefit of the public. Individuals certified by CFP Board have met rigorous professional standards that demonstrate competency, including education, examination and experience requirements, and agree to adhere to high standards of ethics.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER BOARD OF STANDARDS, INC.

1425 K St NW #800 Washington, DC 20005
800.487.1497 | mail@CFPBoard.org | letsmakeaplan.org